Inaugural Jefferson Urology Symposium:

Innovations in the Endoscopic Use of the Holmium Laser

Featuring Optional Hands-on Lab

Friday, December 8, 2017

8:00AM - 4:00PM

Jefferson Alumni Hall
1020 Locust Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107

Specifically designed for licensed healthcare professionals interested in expanding their level of expertise and knowledge of the holmium laser techniques.

Why you should attend:

- Engage in intensive hands-on sessions in a small group setting, with full access to endoscopic instruments, endoscopes, and lasers.
- Explore the reasons why the holmium laser has become an essential tool for the endoscopic management of ureteral and kidney stones.
- Examine the vast number of advanced endoscopic applications that are currently underutilized and learn how you can apply these techniques safely into practice.
- Network with faculty and colleagues in the field throughout the conference.

This course is developed by the Department of Urology at Thomas Jefferson University
