

Inaugural Head and Neck Cancer Symposium
Asplundh Cancer Center - Abington Jefferson Health
Willow Grove, PA 19090

Friday, October 5, 2018

Friday, October 5, 2018
7:30AM	Registration and Refreshments
8:00AM	Welcome	William M. Keane, MD / Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University / Chair, Department of Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery Co-Director, Jefferson Center for Head
8:10AM	Introduction	David M. Cagnetti, MD / Head and Neck Surgeon, Associate Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
8:15AM	Head and Neck Cancer: Bedside to Bench Fostering basic science and clinical collaboration to build a robust Scientific program.	Joseph M. Curry, MD / Head and Neck Surgeon / Associate Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
8:40AM	Window-of-Opportunity Exploring how alternative clinical trials designs and building an enterprise clinical trial portfolio for head and neck cancer.	Adam J. Luginbuhl, MD / Head and Neck Surgeon / Associate Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
9:05AM	Inducing Better Outcomes with Cancer Treatments Developing innovative Clinical trials to bring more therapy options to patients with a goal of improving outcomes and patient experience during treatment.	Ralph Zinner, MD / Medical Oncologist Professor / Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
9:30AM	Refreshment Break
10:00AM	Advances in Surgical Therapy Explore advanced surgical treatment options, improved outcomes, and patient quality of life.	David M. Cagnetti, MD / Head and Neck Surgeon / Associate Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
10:30AM	Advances in Adjuvant Therapy New insights into target therapies including advanced radiation modalities.	Voichita Bar-Ad, MD / Radiation Oncologist, Associate Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
10:55AM	Advances in Non-Surgical Therapy New Insights into the advances of non-surgical therapies in the treatment of head and neck cancers including immunotherapy and evolving clinical trials.	Jennifer M. Johnson, MD, PhD / Medical Oncologist / Assistant Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
11:20AM	The 'Neu' Approach to Cancer Support Uncovering the attributes of supportive medicine and cancer survivorship in patient experience during treatment into survivorship.	Gregory D. Garber, MSW, LCSW / Director of Support Services, Neu Center for supportive Medicine and Cancer Survivorship / Director, Sidney Kimmel Cancer Center Support and Welcome Center
11:45AM	Lunch / Panelist Case Presentation: Challenging Treatment Decisions A panel discussion focusing on the multi-disciplinary approach to treatment patients with Head and Neck Cancer.	Ralph Zinner, MD / Moderator Panelists - Rita Axelrod, MD Richard Goldman, MD; Christopher Fundakowski, MD; Wayne Pinover, MD Madalina Tuluc, MD
12:55PM	Closing Remarks	David M. Cagnetti, MD / Head and Neck Surgeon / Associate Professor, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
1:00PM	Integration Strategy Discussants	Round table discussion and work out to identify strategies to integrate; Head and Neck Cancer Treatment, Clinical Trials, and Care throughout the Jefferson Enterprise
2:00PM	Adjourn	